Pasta with chicken, mushrooms and cream sauce

What is pasta? The simplest form of pasta is a mix of durum wheat flour and water. Durum wheat is a hard, high-protein wheat suitable for pasta and semolina products but not for bread or baking. The flour of durum wheat forms a stiff paste when is mixed with water, so it can be made into different shapes which will be retained when dried and when it is subsequently cooked.

STEWED MEAT

It is a ready-to-eat meal stewed more than two hours at 95°C right in the package, so the meat gets juiciness, wonderful aroma and amazing taste!

Main advantages of stewed meat:

- It's a ready-to-eat product. Just heat it up.
- Long storage life – 90 days.
- There are no analogue products on Russian market.
- Wide range of products from pork, marbled beef and chicken.
- Juicy, tender and flavored meat without any trouble and dirty oven!
